If you are moving and will no longer be a parishioner here, we are sorry to see you go and we wish you well in your new home, but please contact the Parish Center so that we can remove you from the census.

Parish's Sacramental & Prayer Life

*After his resurrection he told his disciples: "Go out and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."
(Rite of Baptism, Blessing of Water)*

We congratulate and welcome those who were baptized last weekend:

Matthew Brian Aviles

Christian Michael Paisi

Christopher Alexander Paisi

"Is anyone among you suffering? They should pray...Is anyone among you sick? They should summon the presbyters of the church, and they should pray over them and anoint them with oil in the name of the Lord."

(James 5:13,14)

Pray for the Sick:

Joseph Brucato Jr., Father Michael Burke, Louis Caprio, Ralph Cicetti, Kathy Corrao, Robert Darpino, Jason Dellavalle, Flo Felano, Josephine Ganz, Marie Liffers, Margaret Link, Mary Maksuta, Gloria Minnocci, Ronald Panicucci, Michael Renaldo, Kristen Sedlacik, Paul Tafuri, Michael Waldinger

*Indeed for your faithful, Lord,
Life is changed not ended,
And when this earthly dwelling turns to dust,
An eternal dwelling is made ready for them in heaven.*

Pray for the Dead:

Edward V. Skibicki

Assumption Day

Tuesday, August 15 we celebrate the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a holy day of obligation for Roman Catholics in New Jersey. The Eucharist will be celebrated at Our Lady of the Valley at 7:30am, 12:00 Noon and 7:00pm.

This summer time feast celebrates the promise of God expressed fully in the life of Mary. God invites us to eternal life, to enjoy the glorious new creation of his son in body, soul and spirit. Our final hope is the resurrection of our own bodies at the end of time to exist forever in this new order of creation. The Solemnity of the Assumption is our great celebration of this final hope. Mary is a pioneer for us in faith. She was the first among us to accept Jesus Christ into her life. In her bodily Assumption, she is also the first to fully enjoy eternal life at the side of her risen son in the glory of heaven. Where she has gone, we hope to follow. We rejoice in the fulfillment of God's promise in her, as we turn to her to guide us to the side of her risen son who reigns in heaven.

Social Ministry Corner

Do you have a family member or friend who is gay or lesbian? Would you like to have a better understanding on the church's teachings on this? Would you like resources to learn more about this topic? If you've answered "yes" to any of these questions, or have additional questions about the LGBT community and the Catholic Church, you are invited to call Deacon Vince at 862-264-2134, or feel free to speak with him directly after Mass. Spiritual Reflection

Needs

Normally the Gospel for last week tells news of John the Baptist's death, which hit Jesus hard. He took a boat to a deserted place in order to grieve, quietly, by himself.

The crowd had watched him go. But they tracked him down and got to that place on foot, before him! When he arrived, their many needs pressed him into service immediately. So, instead of the hushed time for grief that he needed, Jesus' heart was moved by the suffering people that faced him. He spent hour after hour, healing and curing—and feeding the five thousand.

This story was omitted last week because the Church, for a number of reasons, mostly numerical, celebrated instead the feast of the Transfiguration. Fine, but this week's Gospel is much clearer if you know how it follows the previous one, so I have filled in the missing part of the story above!

Which brings us to this Sunday. In the Gospel, Jesus at last sends the crowd away. And notice a strange thing, usually ignored. After feeding the five thousand, he “made the disciples get into a boat and precede him to the other side.” But why send them ahead? Why should he stay there alone? The probable answer is easy. Among other things, he needed to be by himself to process John's death, which had moved him so much.

So he climbed up on a mountainside and took plenty of time to commune with his heavenly Father. By now it was evening, and he prayed well into the night. A gusty wind came up. He could not have been comfortable. Neither could the disciples, who were trying to hold their boat on course in the wind.

We would love to know the character of Jesus' prayer. He had studied scriptures since his youth, so maybe the story of Elijah in our First Reading had come to mind. There, the prophet also was on a mountain-side, and there too, a heavy wind came up. We are told that the Lord was not in the wind, nor in the earthquake that followed, nor in the fire that came next. The Lord God was in the “still, small voice” that came last.*

Fast forward. Jesus surely also heard such a voice. Even though his trust was bruised by John's death, maybe he was letting his Abba refresh it. He let his very personal loss be touched, even after caring for so many poor ones.

What do we learn? All human beings have to rely on God, especially when it seems that tragedy has the upper hand. Maybe Jesus, even Jesus, was learning that divine love stays in the deepest realm of the soul, and needs a quiet time to emerge. Could this be an example of how he “learned obedience through what he suffered” (Hebrews 5:8)? Did he now possess again what the rest of us humans have to learn, that trust is not a sheer act of the will, not simply a blind decision, but a quiet emergence of God's faithful love.

Now Jesus walked on water to the disciples, who were still at sea. How must it have felt to leave solid ground and walk on mere liquid? Perhaps this walking is symbolic of the kind of trust that had been with him throughout his life.

It was such a symbol for Peter.

John Foley, SJ

* I love this older translation of the words, with more symbolism in English, rather than the present way of rendering it, “A tiny whispering sound,” which sacrifices metaphor for accuracy.
